

FRIDAY EVENING OCT. 11, 1895.

ONE of the most ridiculous incidents recalled by Lord Sackville-West's famous pamphlet, is the fact that though the writer had his passports given to him in consequence of urgent importunities from New York, to do "some thing" to keep the Irish voters of that city from voting against the re-election of Mr. Cleveland, a large portion of those voters did vote against him, all the same. But the fact that a break in the amicable relations with the country affording the best market for the surplus products of the United States, if not a war with the most powerful nations of the earth, was risked by a President, who had previously expressed himself as opposed to a second term, in his desire to be re-elected, also emphasizes the danger to which those who have received benefits from him, would subject the country in their desire to elect such a man for a third term.

THE SILVER democrats in Ohio are as devoid of common sense as the gold democrats of some of the other States. The only democratic candidate for U. S. Senator in that State is Mr. Brice, and though he has so far supplied all the funds for the democratic campaign there, the silver democrats have publicly determined to vote for no legislative candidate who is in favor of his re-election. As is only natural, and what every reasonable man might have expected, Mr. Brice has refused to honor any more campaign drafts, for the reason that he can't afford to supply all the funds necessary to secure the election of the democratic ticket, if all the democratic candidates for the Legislature who are his friends are to be slaughtered. Senator Daniel never spoke truer words than when he said there is some truth in the charge that silver democrats are cranks.

THERE is neither a race track nor a "Dead Man's Gulch" near Anacostia, District of Columbia, but the outrages upon women, the murders, highway robberies and other capital crimes committed in and near that place, by comparison, make even all the alleged lawlessness in Alexandria county a bagatelle. But the anti-Alexandria Island and pro-St. Asaph race tracks newspapers of Washington don't view the matter in that light. Wherever negroes congregate in large numbers and are allowed civil and political equality there, and when the punishment of their offenses is interfered with and prevented by the quibbles and delays of the law, there, from the nature of the case, crimes most abound.

A NORTHERN man who believes in the social equality of negroes engaged a band of more than a hundred of them, men and women, in New York, for a minstrel troupe, and after dressing them in the most fantastic style, paraded them through the streets, for hours at a time, of many of the cities and towns of that State during the day, and at night made them sing and dance before large audiences, and then, in a distant town, and without having paid them one stiver, abandoned them to get home as best they could, which most of them did by tramping the entire distance.

REV. DR. CARTER'S MARRIAGE.—One of the most interesting matters which will come up before the Southern Methodist conference, which meets in Richmond early next month, will be that of Rev. Dr. George W. Carter, in connection with his recent marriage. Dr. Carter, who is one of the best known members of the Virginia conference, a few months ago was married to a young lady of Lynchburg. The parents of the bride, who was about nineteen, opposed the match, and the couple went to Washington, where the ceremony was performed. No minister of the Methodist Church may under church law perform the marriage ceremony in a case where either party to the contract has been divorced, the husband and wife so divorced being then alive. It will be charged that, notwithstanding this law of the church, Dr. Carter himself contracted a marriage, being a divorced man. It is further said that Dr. Carter will plead that he was not a divorced man in the eyes of the law at the time that his last marriage was contracted, and will raise a very nice question of law which will perplex the conference.

GOVERNOR O'FERRALL is by no means a model Governor, as all intelligent men familiar with his course must acknowledge; but all such men also commend him for his action in sending troops to Pocahontas, and would do so if the expense of sending them had been twenty times as great as it was. Law must be enforced and order preserved, no matter at what cost; but in the case referred to, there is every reason to believe the cost would have been infinitely greater if the Governor had not resorted to prevention, instead of waiting to apply a cure.

GENERAL SCHOFIELD now doubtless fully realizes the wisdom of thinking twice before speaking once. Everybody who knows Major Ames is aware of the fact that he is a little eccentric, to say the least, and as the General had only one more day of power, it would have been much better, not only for his present peace of mind, but for his future feelings, if he had allowed the Major's letter to pass unnoticed.

IF THE editor of the self called "Cleveland democratic" newspaper is who are trying to defeat the democratic tickets in Maryland and Kentucky only knew what true democrats say of their professions of delight at the recent democratic victory in Indianapolis, they wouldn't feel so comfortable as they would have their readers think they do.

Charles Chase, the one-legged Batavian, who recently visited Niagara Falls, declaring that he would jump from the new suspension bridge, was erected there last night and sent back to Batavia, N. Y., where he was arraigned on the charge of non support and jailed. Since his departure to the falls his wife and four children have been living in destitute circumstances.

FROM WASHINGTON.
[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.
The Treasury stated gold reserve today is nearly eight million below the legal requirement.
Dispatches have been received here stating that a new line of railway to connect the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of Nicaragua will soon be projected in that country. The work will be placed in the hands of an American engineer of international prominence and the funds to complete it will be furnished by the Nicaraguan government.
Secretary Carlisle, accompanied by Assistant Secretary Hamlin, left Washington at 10 o'clock this morning for Boston, where they will make speeches in favor of the democratic ticket, of the election of which nobody entertains the remotest idea.
The race track people here are laughing at the few horse owners who recently took their stock from the Alexandria county tracks and sent them to the track at Maspeth, N. Y., which track has already come to grief and closed.
The arrivals here to-day is Senator Sherman of Ohio. He says the republicans will carry Ohio next month and the country next year; thinks the Senate will be reorganized by a compromise, allowing Senators-at-large to retain their place, but substituting a republican for Secretary Cox, and says there will be no use for the next Congress to attempt to change the tariff, as any change it would make would be vetoed by the President, who, however, he thinks, is much better than his party.
City officials say there is no truth in the report that there are a great number of cases of typhoid fever here, and say it is originated by those who are interested in the extension of the sewer system.
The recent reception given here to General Longstreet by the Confederate Veterans' Association of this city is the subject of a good deal of adverse comment by ex-Confederates who are not members of that organization. They say they don't object to Confederates making as much as they please of those of their conquerors who deserve respect, but they cannot understand why Southern men should be degraded to honor to a man who hastened to desert his comrades as soon as the war was over, and joined those who tried to put them under the control of negroes and carpet baggers, and all for a salary.

The ties and rails for the completion of the Mt. Vernon electric railroad have been received and also the requisite number of cars. The foundation of the power house at Four-mile run has almost been completed, and the work of the erection of that house will be commenced at once. Dr. Abbott, the president of the company, has returned from New England, and says he confidently expects that cars will be running regularly over the entire line from B street in this city to Mt. Vernon, via the Long Bridge, before Christmas.
It is intimated at the State Department that the report to the effect that Japan is contemplating the seizure of the Sandwich Islands was started by those interested in the annexation of those islands to this country, and has no foundation in fact.
As the administration doesn't think Minister Terrell is either willing or able enough to protect the Armenian subjects of Turkey from the assaults of other citizens of that country it has sent a U. S. ship to Turkey for that purpose.
A telegraphic dispatch received here this morning from New York announced the reported assassination of President Cleveland at Buzzard's Bay, but it was immediately contradicted.
Attorney General Harmon, in response to a letter asking him if it would be a violation of law for American citizens to express sympathy for the Cuban insurgents in public meetings, to-day wrote as follows: As the United States are not only at peace with Spain, but have with her a treaty whereby the extradition of prisoners and other benefits are secured, it behooves all American citizens who have respect for the laws and obligations of their country and regard for its honor, to observe this law in spirit as well as in letter, to be neutral in word, as well as in deed. Taking such action as you must on would, in my judgment, be discourteous in the highest degree to a friendly power and tend to embarrass and obstruct the government in carrying out its determination faithfully to execute the laws and fulfill its treaty obligations.

THE EPISCOPALIANS.
At Minneapolis yesterday the opponents of the constitution revision in the Episcopal Church showed their hand in the house of deputies when Stephen P. Nash, of New York, offered a resolution calling for the commitment of the constitution to a new revisional commission. It was stipulated that all amendments before the convention should be referred, that the commission should report to the next convention, and that the report should be in the form of definite amendments to the present constitution.
Louis Stockton, of Western New York, asked the ruling of the chair as to whether this resolution was in order. Dr. Dix ruled that it was not, since the present commission had not yet presented its full report, nor had it been discharged from duty. As no one was ready to move the discharge of the present commission, consideration of its report was resumed.
A motion to strike out section 3, which provides for the office of "primate" to be held by the senior bishop, was defeated—178 to 120.
When section 4 was taken up, Judge Fairbanks, of Florida, moved to amend by restoring the number of clerical and lay deputies from each diocese to the present number of four. This was accepted with practical unanimity.
The deputies spent some time at the opening of the session in revising its rules. Buchanan Winthrop was re-elected treasurer of the convention. The church workers among the people urged the need of appointment of more colored priests.
The use of bishops took up the proposal for the election of the diocese of Marquette, in Northern Michigan, which was favorably voted on by the deputies yesterday. It was explained that an Episcopal endowment and a resident bishop had been provided. The bishops voted in favor of the division, but appointed a committee of conference with the deputies to straighten out some technical difficulties. A set of resolutions was adopted deploring the Armenian atrocities, commending their ancient church to all Christian people as deserving of succor and contributions for the relief of its sore necessities, and respectfully asking the Church of England to take such action as would commend the cause of the Armenian Church to the English-speaking world.
The house then went into council on the subject of Christian unity.
The deputies concurred in the Armenian resolution adopted by the bishops, and adjourned for the day.
It has developed that the house of bishops yesterday morning voted for Louisville as the next place of meeting. The two houses are thus at odds, the lower house having voted for Atlanta. A conference will be necessary.
The resolution was modified so as to ask for the report of the commission on revision for next Monday, and was adopted.
The amendment offered yesterday, a substitute for the amendment to the constitution sent down from the house of bishops on the revision of the constitution, was laid on the table.
An amendment providing for four instead of three delegates from all dioceses in the house of deputies as recommended by the house of bishops, was adopted.

THE SEABOARD ROAD.—It is rumored in Richmond that the Robinson interest in the Seaboard Air Line road has passed into the hands of the Winders, and if this is true the Winders will likely gain control of the road. The Citizens' Fire Company presented the happy couple with a cradle, an extension table and a half-dozen chairs.

SAIORS' HOME INMATES DISFRANCHISED.—NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Justice Gaynor filed a decision yesterday which disfranchises, so far as Staten Island is concerned, between 900 and 1,000 men. The decision practically wipes out an entire election district of the town of Castleton. Justice Gaynor found that the inmates of the Sailors' Home at Castleton cannot vote there, as they still retain their old homes from which they originally came and must vote from there.

Governor Brown, of Maryland, yesterday decided in the election supervisors' case that Messrs. Bians and Cairnes were not guilty of the charge of "gross misconduct" in running their office. The evidence, he said, showed, however, that Dr. Cairnes had not attended to the work of the office, and that Colonel Holland, republican supervisor, was too old to perform the duties. Therefore he requested their resignations. Dr. Cairnes resigned. Colonel Holland refused to do so and was removed. Captain Bians remains in office.

THE ARMENIAN QUESTION.—The Porte's reply to the joint note of the six powers relative to the recent rioting at Constantinople has been made public. The government enumerates the steps that were taken to maintain order, and declares that Musselmans were not the aggressors in the rioting. It further says that Armenians killed innocent Mohammedans, and that in certain cases the Mohammedans had to defend themselves against their attacks. The reply denies the reports that the government forbade the sending of supplies to the Armenians who had sought refuge in the churches and declares that the refugees will soon leave the churches and return to their homes, and the city will resume its normal aspect. It announces that the government is about to open an inquiry for the purpose of discovering the guilty persons, and recommends the diplomats to use their good offices with a view to the restoration of order, especially as the intrigues of agitators cause fear of more serious outbreaks may occur in the capital.
The receipt of the reply to the representatives of the six powers met at the residence of M. Cambon, the French ambassador, to consider the attitude of the Porte as exemplified in its note. It is the general belief that the note will not satisfy the diplomats.
The Armenians who sought refuge in the churches at the time of the riots were persuaded yesterday to return to their homes.

The orator pointed out the fact that the people of the South were themselves much to blame for the lack of knowledge the world possessed about the claims of this section of the country. They had neglected, the speaker said, to collect this information and have it properly disseminated. Among those present were ex-Senator Hunter, Congressman Tyler, Gen. Dabney H. Maury and Gen. Thomas T. Munford. The old officers of the association were re-elected, and after the meeting the usual banquet took place.

Unmindful of her wound, Mrs. Marshall returned the robber's fire and the intruders fled. Six bullets were sent after them by the brave woman. The wounded heroine was conveyed to San Francisco on a special engine. Her wound is not considered dangerous.
